

THE GREYHOUND

PUBLISHED BI-WEEKLY BY THE STUDENTS OF LOYOLA COLLEGE

Vol. IX

BALTIMORE, MD., TUESDAY, NOVEMBER, 12 1935

No. 4

LECTURE ON "DIPLOMACY" OPENS HISTORY ACADEMY

DOCTOR DOEHLER SPEAKS

"Diplomatic Background Of The Great War" Subject Of Lecture Series

The 1935-'36 lecture series of the John Gilmary Shea Academy of History was opened, Nov. 6, by Edward A. Doehler, Ph.D., Professor of History. The topic of Dr. Doehler's address was "Diplomacy and War in Modern History", serving as an introduction to the Academy's course of lectures.

After a few introductory remarks, Dr. Doehler stated the definition of a diplomatist as given by a British Ambassador about three hundred years ago. "An ambassador is an honest man, sent to lie abroad for the good of his country."

Emphasizing the fact that diplomacy has been used as often to incite war as to prevent it, Dr. Doehler said that "Diplomacy at present, is made up of much that is evil; but the elements of the good and evil are so confounded in it, that it will be well to reserve judgement until the story of the diplomacy of Europe from 1870 to 1914 has been unfolded." In this statement the speaker brought out the general subject of the lecture series, "The Diplomatic Background of the Great War from 1870 to 1914."

Officers

The officers of the History Academy for this year are: Eugene Jendrek, '36, President; Joseph J. Mack, '37, Vice-President; William E.

(Continued on Page 6, Col. 3)

Rev. Eugene McDonnell, S. J., Succumbs After Long Illness

With the passing of the Rev. Eugene DeL. McDonnell, S.J., ex. '85 on October 28, the Society of Jesus and the Archdiocese of Baltimore lost a real priest and a true friend. Father McDonnell, founder of the Layman's Retreat Movement in the archdiocese and builder of Manresa-on-the-Severn, died at the Georgetown University Hospital, to which he had been moved after spending several months at the Bon Secours Hospital in Baltimore.

As a young priest, Father McDonnell had volunteered to go to India as a missionary,

(Continued on Page 4, Col. 3)

COLONEL CHARLES FURLONG GIVES LECTURE IN LIBRARY

SPEAKS ON "ETHIOPIA"

Lecturer Is World Traveler And A Former U. S. Army Officer

"The whole question is bigger than one of right or wrong; bigger than that of a larger country invading a smaller one. The question is very ramified and goes back many decades. When reduced to its lowest terms it is a question of water". With these introductory remarks Colonel Charles Furlong, world traveler and lecturer and former United States Army officer, began his lecture on "Ethiopia" which was given before the student body in the Library on October 29.

Travelled In Ethiopia

Colonel Furlong, who has traveled in the region which is now the scene of war, showed by means of maps, how Ethiopia, a country containing the highest mountains in Africa, has been cut off from an outlet to the sea. The people living there are grouped racially into the Abyssinian proper, who is not Negro, the Galla, who

(Continued on Page 6, Col. 1)

DR. GLENN L. JENKINS GIVES LECTURE BEFORE CHEM CLUB

SPEAKS ON IATRO CHEM.

Dr. Glenn L. Jenkins of the University of Maryland, presented a lecture on "The Evolution of Iatro-Chemistry", before the Chemists' Club on Tuesday, October 29, showing how it has evolved from its crude beginnings prior to the Roman Empire to the important pharmaceutical chemistry of today.

Early Period

The speaker first treated of a period when chemistry was merely the handmaiden of alchemy. Prior to the fall of Constantinople, there was but little progress in iatro-chemistry, but with the fall came renewed interest in literature, and the invention of printing. Men began to publish their heretofore concealed knowledge, so that by the time of Luther's revolt, science had awakened to a true aspect of its real function and importance.

Dr. Jenkins stated that up to this time, crude aqueous extracts were prescribed as medicine, along with many

(Continued on Page 3, Col. 4)

CALENDAR

Nov. 12—Sodality meeting 12:10.

Nov. 13—Bellarmino Debating Society Meeting.

Nov. 14—Chem. Lecture Dr. Hugh S. Taylor, D. Sc., on "Catalysis at Reaction Surfaces."

Nov. 15—End of First Quarter. Election of Student Intramural Athletic Council.

Nov. 18 — Election of class Representatives to S. I. A. C.

Nov. 19 — History Academy Meeting.

Nov. 20—Bellarmino Debating Society Meeting. First meeting of S. I. A. C.

ETHIOPIAN QUESTION SUBJECT OF FIRST BELLARMINE DEBATE

JENDREK, BOKEMEYER WIN

Speakers From Floor Stage Lively Demonstration In Argument

The first debate of the Robert Bellarmine Debating Society took place on Wednesday, October 30. The question was: "Resolved: that the Italian government, by reason of necessity, precedent and claims of civilization, has a right to exercise the territorial sovereignty over Ethiopia".

Affirmative Wins

Mr. Eugene Jendrek '36, and Mr. Charles Bokemeyer, '37, upheld the question as stated, while Mr. Raymond Cooper, '36 and Mr. William Little, '37, supported the negative side. In face of the fire of Mr. Little and the cool reasoning of Mr. Cooper, the affirmative flung argument after argument in Italy's favor, so that by the vote of the house, the negative bowed to their opponents by three votes.

However, it was a different matter when the question was thrown open for discussion from the floor. Messrs. Maguire '38, O'Donnell '37, and Dolan '36 vehemently opposed the arguments of the affirmative. A lively interchange of opinions occurred when the debaters attempted to defend their arguments.

Open Forum

On November 6, the Society had an open forum discussion

(Continued on Page 6, Col. 5)

SOPHOMORE FROLIQUE WILL BE HELD AT MERCHANTS' CLUB

DECEMBER 6 DATE CHOSEN

Committee Hopes To Arrange As Successful A Dance As Last Year

The final arrangements for this year's Sophomore Frolique have been almost completed. The Frolique, which is annually the first major event in the Loyola social season, will be held on December 6 at the fashionable Merchants' Club on Redwood St.

Same Scene

Those who attended last year's Frolique, which was also held at the Merchants' Club, made quite a few complimentary remarks about the ballroom and the splendid facilities of the club.

The committee of arrangements under President Richard Carey, Chairman, includes Messrs. William Mahoney, Edwin Gehring, Charles C. Conlon, John O. Bracken, Harry Devlin, Herbert Reynolds, Edward Reddy and Joseph Costello. The selection of an orchestra and other details will be announced within a few days.

BERNARD RICE, '36 IS ELECTED PREFECT OF LOYOLA SODALITY

MACK IS ASST. PREFECT

The Loyola College Sodality held its first meeting of the year on Tuesday, November 5. There was a fine representation of about eighty-five students present. The primary purpose of the meeting was to elect the officers of the Sodality for the present year.

Rice Is Prefect

Mr. Bernard Rice of the Senior Class was elected Prefect by an overwhelming majority, and Mr. Joseph Mack, of Junior, won over his nearest rival, Mr. O'Donnell. Mr. Mahoney, Sophomore, became the new Treasurer, and George Connor, Freshman, was elected to the office of Secretary.

The Senior, Junior, Sophomore and Freshman Classes had each previously nominated three members for their respective office. The sodality as a body elected the officers from these nominees. From the two unsuccessful candidates in each class, a class representative will be chosen.

INTRAMURAL ELECTIONS TO BE HELD ON FRIDAY

NOMINEES NAMES POSTED

Student Council Rules On Freshmen-Soph Football Game

At an important meeting on Nov. 7, the Student Council decided upon the date for the annual Freshman-Sophomore football game and also ordered an immediate reorganization of the Student Intramural Athletic Council.

Football Game

The traditional football game between the Freshman and Sophomore classes to determine whether the "pup" rules shall be continued or be abrogated will be played sometime during the week after Thanksgiving or whatever day is found most convenient. The equipment for the contest must be furnished by the players.

SIAC President

The entire student body will elect the president of the Student Intramural Athletic Council, which is the governing board of intramurals, on Friday, November 15. The nominees, who must be seniors, were selected on November 11 and the names have been posted. On Monday, November 18 each class will elect three members to represent it on the Student Intramural Athletic Council. The Council will begin to function immediately after these elections, and will hold its first meeting on Thursday, November 21.

Twenty-Six Loyola Students Receive Aid From F. E. R. A.

Twenty-six Loyola students are receiving aid this year from the "National Youth Administration," a division of the F. E. R. A. The student applying for this aid must sign an affidavit to the effect that, without this financial assistance it would be impossible for him to attend college.

In return the N. Y. A. demands of them forty hours a month in the particular branch of work assigned. The work embraces the following duties: telephone operator, stenographer, laboratory assistant, library assistant, and recreation room supervisors.

(Continued on Page 6, Col. 5)

THE GREYHOUND

LOYOLA COLLEGE

Vol. IX Baltimore, Maryland No. 4

Editor-in-Chief

EUGENE F. JENDREK, '36

Managing Editor

LAWRENCE T. MULLEN, '37

Sports Editor

ANDREW E. CICHELLI, '36

Circulation Manager

CHARLES C. CONLON, JR., '38

Advertising Manager

JOSEPH J. MACK, '37

Associate Editors

JOHN J. DINAN, '36

WILLIAM J. O'DONNELL, '37

Departments

WILLIAM D. MCGONIGLE, '37

WILLIAM E. WHITE, '37

ROBERT B. MAGUIRE, '36

News Staff

F. KENNARD DILL, '36

F. HOWARD KIDD, JR., '37

JOHN DOLLE, '36

CHARLES O. FISHER, '38

JOSEPH B. AARON, '38

EDWIN A. GEHRING, '38

DANIEL J. LODEN, '39

WILLIAM I. DOYLE, '39

JOHN D. WHITE, '39

Published Bi-Weekly

Subscription $2.00

Catholic Action

Just as the members of every working organization have to keep constantly oiling the machinery which makes it run, so the members of the Catholic Church, the greatest organization on earth, keep perpetually in action, working toward a smoother function of their machinery. Although Christ has said: "Behold I am with you all days, even to the consummation of the world," he also said: "I am the vine, you are the branches", and in this figure, we see Christ as the center of the Church, and men as the branches which, while identified with the stem, nevertheless are capable of growing and increasing the size of the vine. These Catholics who form the branches and who increase the power and dominion of the Church, are all workers in Catholic Action.

This Catholic Action is the organization of Catholic laymen with the purpose of bringing souls to Christ, and it is being carried on under many forms, including the teaching of Catechism to small children in parishes throughout this and other cities, in classes held during six weeks of the summer, and on Saturdays during the winter. The purpose of these classes is to teach the rules and principles of the Catholic children who do not attend parochial schools, and in order that those who instruct the children might learn the correct way in which to present their material, there is a Summer School of Catholic Action conducted by Fr. Daniel A. Lord, S.J., in New York. Not only are regular subjects taught in this course, but problems of social clubs, sodalities and other organizations are presented and discussed.

In Baltimore, there are groups who work for Catholic Action by providing not only instruction, but also clothing for the children and young people, and also manage entertainments at which the young people may convene and enjoy many hours of mutual companionship. While these activities are carried on for the most part by the younger people, there are also other organizations such as, the Holy Name Society, the Ladies of Charity, and the St. Vincent De Paul Society.

But one group, and it is an important and growing one, is anxious to enroll members who are young and old. This is the Catholic Evidence Guild, a league originated in London in 1918, introduced to the United States by Mr. Frank Sheed in the fall of 1930, and composed principally of Catholic laymen, who teach the Catholic Faith to men and women who otherwise would never hear it. Bishop McNamara, Loyola Alumnus of 1897, expressed the purpose of the Guild by saying that the Catholics believe the two commandments of Christ: 1: Love God with your whole heart and your whole mind. 2: Love your neighbor. Love means the giving to the beloved the best that one has. To God we give praise, to our neighbor we give the best we have, which is our Faith.

Therefore it is the purpose of the Guild to give to our neighbor our Faith, which is our greatest possession, and when we hear that since the erection of the Guild stand at the Hollins Market in Baltimore, there have been numerous conversions in a parish in that vicinity, we realize that the work of the Guild has not been in vain. In preparation for speaking at these stands, or 'pitches' as they are called, meetings are held at the Archbishop's residence on week nights,

(Continued on Page 3, Col. 1)

Campus Clippings

W. W.

Seasonal Scenes: "D o c" Harry, professor in stream-lined Calculus, profoundly puzzled over the next move in a tit-tat-toe game. Dennis, getting ready to "turn on the heat."—Leary and Sheene settling down for a draught-y winter—the gym getting all heated up for the approaching basketball season.

* * *

Generalizations

Tramps are not to be trusted, they say,
Rocks at them should be hurled,
Tramps have never worked for pay.
They're the Tin Can Tourists of the World.

* * *

Lost: One ball and chain. If the lucky finder will please communicate with Charley Fleury, who just "loves" shackles, he will be put wise to the marvelous uses to which the object can be put.

* * *

Cafeteria Conversation:

Junior: Some day you'll eat those words.

Senior: I hope it won't be in Carney's restaurant.

* * *

Reddy: Let's go down to see "The Last Days Of Pompeii."

Sehlhorst: Naw! I'm getting tired of these gangster pictures.

* * *

After that earthquake recently, a woman in Buffalo phoned the priests at Canisius and told them that if they didn't stop using that seismograph to start those earthquakes, she was going to make them pay for any future damages to her home.

* * *

A brief questionnaire put to the various members of the basketball squad elicited these answers:

Knight: Get them fundamentals.

Carney: All you need is a good eye.

Wayson: White or Chocolate?

Gromacki: I'm ninety per cent form.

Matriciani: St. Leo's is a cinch to win.

Ferrarini: Ethiopia hasn't got a chance.

Russell: I gotta get to my books.

* * *

Aside to Dr. Doehler:

If Louie hadn't any heir,

Had the Spanish throne been just as bare

What would Spain and France have done,

If Anne had not begot a son.

Evergreen Reflections

R. B. M.

A Matter of Some Importance

In the interests of fair play, we feel it incumbent upon us to bring to the attention of Loyola Seniors a matter of some importance. It concerns the proposed tea dance which was to have been tendered our Senior bachelors. Notice that we say "was to have been tendered" because there is not going to be any tea dance. There is not going to be anything, not even an exchange of names and addresses. But this is not the worst of it. We are to be denied the right of learning in one easy lesson, nine (9) ways of balancing a tea-cup. Never will we feel comfortable with a napkin on our knee and cake crumbs on our fingers. Does one use three lumps of sugar, or six? Does one squeeze the lemon with both hands or with one? If with two, it is permissible to put the cup on the floor while performing the operation? Does one stir with the spoon or with the finger? If with the finger, which finger should be used? Does one schlurp or sip? Does one munch or nibble? These amenities can only be learned by bitter experience. Emily Post-Mortem explains this fully. In part she says (P. 322, The Art of Being Invited Out): "SOME LESS ORTHODOX ETIQUETTISTS CLAIM THAT CONDUCT AT TEA IS AN INNATE CHARACTERISTIC WHICH ONE EITHER HAS OR HAS NOT. IT HAS BEEN MY OBSERVATION, HOWEVER, THAT EVEN IN THE MOST ARISTOCRATIC FAMILIES THE BRATS MUST BE CAUGHT YOUNG AND FORCED TO LEARN THE RITUAL. TO PROVE MY POINT, I WILL CITE AN ACTUAL CASE: There was an informal group of us having tea about 1:30 one night in somebody's room at the Dig-down Hotel in Beating-around-the-Bush, Long Island. I remember the time well. It was during the Mug-Wumper's National Convention of 1904. The kiddies were all having one hilarious time when in walked two grimy coal-heavers. They explained that they had intended to go to the Amalgamated Coal Heavers Convention at Petting-in-the-Park, Wisconsin, but had got mixed up somewhere. They seemed like nice fellows so we invited them to stay. We asked them their names. One was Leopold Jan Sokolowski, of the Warsaw Sokolowski's, an old coal-heaving family. The other was Lowell Lodge Cabot Van Squeegie, who was working at heaving coal while gathering material for a book to be called "The Life and Times of Senator F. X. Write". And would you believe it, Leopold drank twice as much tea as Van and it never even fazed him. The scion of that great old Boston family simply could not take it although all his relatives were noted tea-totalers. When the tea party broke up (about 7:30, I think it was) Leo had drunk at least a quart of tea, but he still had his head above the table. Van, on the other hand had been taken to an all night Turkish bath some hours before. This proves conclusively my contention that tea-drinking is an acquired art".

In the face of such overwhelming evidence, we feel the projected tea dance should be reconsidered. If not, we will remain just amateur gentlemen, a consummation devoutly to be protested against.

* * *

Correction

It has been called to our attention that in our last column we neglected a never-to-be-regained chance to commit an inexcusable pun. We should, it seems, have referred to Student Counselor Vogel, not as a prominent Leftist, but as an outstanding "Red". Well, we can't think of everything, Bill.

* * *

Bodacious

Shet yer tater traps a while, fellows. We have an announcement to make that will thrill all of you to the core, which will satisfy your curiosity and make you sleep easier at night. (No, we are not going to give a retreat). The magic words are these: We have found the expression "bodacious", previously thought to be a Snuffy Smithism, in a large and reputable dictionary. There is no doubt at all that it is a real word. The dictionary has been in our family for years. My great great-great-uncle traded a chipped mustache cup and the gold filling out of one of his teeth (it was a back one, and Aunt Fannie never even noticed it) for it. Furthermore, the dictionary shows no signs of having been tampered with. True, a few of the pages are missing and somebody got away with the whole section while on a treasure hunt (remember?), but as a whole we can trust this dictionary. We were reading along, enjoying the magnificent alliteration and garnering

(Continued on Page 3, Col. 4)

Greyhound Open Forum

Letters of comment and criticism from our readers will be published in this column.

To the Editor-in-Chief of the Greyhound:

Dear Sir:

May I express an honest and sincere opinion. I want to object to the account of the election of the Senior members of the Student Council.

The account that I refer to appeared under the caption of "Evergreen Reflections", in the issue of October 29, 1935. I do not regard the epithets that describe the new officers and their supporters as humorous. Such a description is not worthy of a paper published by this college.

Further, why call the newly elected "Radicals"? We do not have such factions in the Senior class at Loyola. This thing has gone too far. I resent the insinuation that I jumped from one faction to the other. I supported certain seniors, because I know that they have always supported the college affairs, and have been loyal to our class. I believed that they were qualified to handle class affairs. It is not necessary for any one to speak of factions, or to refer to Radical success. The officers are not Radicals, nor am I a Radical.

We are all Seniors.

I am writing this in the hope that this discussion will cease. I hope that since we have only a few months to be together, we will all pull together as SENIORS. Don't forget the good times that this class has had. We'll all be happier if this factional business is forgotten.

Yours for the Seniors and Loyola,
Francis X. Wright '36

The account referred to was not a news article but only our columnist's burlesqued conception of the election. After all, being a columnist, he has to have some license. What is a Radical anyway?

Leningrad, USSR: Nov. 12 (NP) Tsvetayevaz skavi h uyre klab ayevez shko gey-serev tsensky Syn. F. X. Wright, zymatin U. S. A. tsvetskzj!

EDITORIAL

(Continued from Page 2, Col. 1)

and there the members are trained in the methods of teaching the Word of Christ to their fellow men.

Those of us who have the opportunity of attending a Catholic college, where Catholic doctrine is ours to study, should be the ones who should lead the pace in obeying the command of Christ, Who tells us to go and teach all nations. This we can do by working and praying for the cause of Catholic Action. We know what it is, we know how it functions, all that we need to do is to be an active member of it!

SAFE DEPOSIT & TRUST CO., OF BALTIMORE

13 SOUTH STREET

Estates Managed and Settled

J. J. NELLIGAN
Chairman

GEORGE C. CUTLER
President

LEO A. CODD '16 SPEAKS ON "A CATHOLIC'S VIEW OF LIFE"

NOTED CATHOLIC LAYMEN

Leo A. Codd, '16, prominent Catholic layman of the Archdiocese of Baltimore and well-known Washington lawyer, spoke at the First Christian Church Baltimore, on Sunday evening, November 3. His subject was "A Catholic's View of Life".

His address was under the auspices of the Institute of Human Relations, which is non-sectarian and non-denominational, conducted at the First Christian Church by the Rev. A. W. Gottschall, pastor.

Class of 1916

Mr. Codd is a native of Baltimore. He received his Bachelor of Arts degree from Loyola in 1916, and LL.B., from Georgetown University of Law in 1922. He is a former president of the District of Columbia Section of the Baltimore Archdiocesan Holy Name Union, and he is also an active member of the Catholic Evidence Guild in Washington. An eloquent speaker, he has given talks on Catholic doctrines in public places and at meetings throughout the eastern section of the country.

A true friend and Loyola alumnus of Loyola, Mr. Codd recently spoke at the college, making the presentation speech at the donation of the Ooghe Memorial Chalice to Loyola by the alumni.

The "Spectator" of Seattle College has published a warning for "experienced" pet owners of the neighborhood to keep their pets on leash. The reason seems to be over-enthusiastic biology students.

Pieces Of Eight

Beginning with this issue we will run a resume of the news printed in the first issues of the GREYHOUND eight years ago in order to bring back to the present students some idea of the collegiate activities of their predecessors.

(Extracts taken from the Greyhound of November 5, 1927).

Two boxes at the top of the front page: Remember last year: Beat Western Maryland . . . Campus Clippings (on the front page) suggests a get together of the entire alumni and student body. (Even then) . . . Father Wiesel, Vice-president of Loyola, returns from trip to Massachusetts; Father Schmitt from giving a retreat at Fordham . . . Bob Iula's orchestra to play tonight at Loyola-Western Maryland Football-Dance to be given in Gym . . . Definition of cheering, with emphasis on its onomatopoeic ring, given in corner of page one (Obviously to get the ba-hoys worked up over the game) . . . B. Zar '28 writes a column on falling autumn leaves, Shelley and Thompson . . . Editor Tribbe sings the praises of the unsung hero, the football substitute . . . Headline informs us that the "Freshies Wear Caps If Sophs Are Near" (Looks like the Sophs didn't have that paddle in those days) . . . Mario Intrieri returns from the hospital bragging about the swell looking nurse on the hall . . . Father Love receives two letters from officials of the Illinois Central Railroad System, expressing the delight which they took in entertaining the Loyola football team when it went to New Orleans to play the Loyola team there . . . As seen in the ads, you're not in style unless you have a crew neck sweater, which can be bought in navy blue and black for the paltry sum of six ninety-five! . . . Parrot Prattle prates about sharp-toothed words being like rain drops that eke out of the eaves . . .

Sports editor comments on how the Greyhounds were held at leash by the Black and Blue (in other words, Hopkins won!) . . . Harry Childs does some spectacular playing in the game . . . Whole column given to describing how Loyola defeated Washington College, 34-0 . . . Duke Mosser again in harness after being injured in the "Fatal New Orleans Game." . . .

The Varsitarian, University of Santo Tomos: A two day suspension of classes was held for class elections. (Sounds like a good idea!)

DR. GLENN L. JENKINS GIVES LECTURE BEFORE CHEM CLUB

SPEAKS ON IATRO CHEM.

(Continued from Page 1, Col. 2)

useless contrivances, and it was done in a very inaccurate way. With the invention of distillation by the Arabs, however, pure compounds could be isolated, which resulted in the production of much clearer idea of medicines and their ingredients.

Next Basil Valentine voiced the revolutionary theory that poison was only a relative term, showing that such "poisons" as arsenic and antimony could be correctly given without harm. In the fifteenth century, Paracelsus laid another foundation stone by the purification of chemicals and extracts.

"In the sixteenth century", the speaker continued, "Iatro-Chemistry declined, and it was not revived until later. This revival was the beginning of the pharmaceutical chemistry of today. At this time, a relatively small number of inorganic acids, bases and salts were known in organic chemistry."

Pioneers

In rapid succession, Lavoisier, Liebig and Kekule furnished invaluable information. Kekule especially, gave impetus to organic chemistry. Another pioneer was Woeller, who by his famous synthesis, became known as the "Father of Organic Chemistry". Thus, synthetic chemistry was begun in the nineteenth century, and despite much prejudice against it, it was finally given its rightful recognition in the twentieth century.

Dr. Jenkins stated that we of today can only comprehend a sub-species, while Sir Humphry could comprehend a natural order. This specialization and diversity of ability does not make for uncertainty, but gives rise to modern pharmaceutical laboratories, where there are scores of special departments, as a contrast to the man of the fifteenth century who made his own drugs, compounded them, and administered them.

This was changed by the Civil War when many of the large pharmaceutical firms existing today were established; the Civil War changed

Chess F. H. K.

The laurels of glory, though often delayed, are never given too late. The hero in question is our own local boy, one Andrew Cichelli, Sports Editor of the Greyhound.

On the evening of June 22, while many of us were about our divers means of pleasure seeking, Chick was laboring (?) to defend the honor of our city in the field of chess. On that evening, Washington, the opponents, were one point ahead of Baltimore, and it was Mr. Cichelli's problem to keep his mates in the running.

Finally, Chick obtained a powerful position and his opponent, Mr. Edward M. Weeks, was forced to resign. To remove this deadlock, a future play-off must be held. In this, Chick will again play for the Baltimore team, and you can bet that he will come through with the "bacon". Good luck, Chick!

In the near future, the Chess Club will reorganize for the coming year. All former members are requested to be present. If there are any members of the Freshman Class who already play chess or who are eager to learn, they are invited to attend this meeting and enroll.

The future of Chess at Loyola is in no small measure dependent upon the enrollment of new members, so watch for the date!

The Maroon: Loyola University, New Orleans: Three future scientists had spent an hour and a half trying to figure how many bricks four inches square are necessary to make a stone wall four feet by four feet by four feet. At last, after using all branches of mathematics, the prof broke down and told them: "None." "Why?" "Because it was a 'stone' wall."

the druggist's motive from service to profit, with the result that while in the early days, discoveries were given to humanity, now they are kept secret and protected by individuals, universities and manufacturers.

EVERGREEN REFLECTIONS

(Continued from Page 2, Col. 4)

knowledge at every turn, when our gaze came upon the word "bodacious". It waited there till we caught up, and there it was: Bo das hus, adj., dial., U.S., actively bold, C.F. boldacious. We would have dialed U.S., but couldn't find the station on the chart. So we C.F'd boldacious with no further gain except that on that page we came across an old newspaper clipping describing the meeting of my great-great-great-uncle and the Warden of Dannemora Prison.

Alumni Doings

W. D. McG.

This is the first chance we've had to break into print this year, but before we go any further we wish to congratulate the alumni for their record attendance at the annual meeting held on October 8th, and also for their fine showing at the Ooghe Memorial Mass which was held on October 20th. A loyal spirit was displayed at both of these affairs, and we hope that the alumni will turn out for meetings in the future as they have been doing so far this year. You're off to a good start, alumni, keep up the good work!

News has been piling up fast and furious, and so much has accumulated up to now that we hardly know where to begin. We'll shut our eyes and start with the first item we put our finger on. So, here goes. . . .

Now, let's see, first we have an item about an alumnus of whom Loyola should well be proud. Clarke J. Fitzpatrick, '07, who has been associated with the Executive Department of the United States Fidelity and Guaranty Company since 1920, was elevated to the position of Secretary during the summer.

Ben Egan, '33; Bud Weatherly, ex'36 and Ralph Nolan, ex '36, all connected with the Commercial Credit Company, plan to take a course in accounting this fall at Johns Hopkins University.

Ray Kirby, '33, who received his M.A. degree at Georgetown University in June, 1934, is working in a local law office, and taking a course in law at the University of Maryland Evening School.

Bill Coffman, '33, is working in the surplus department of the F.E.R.A. in Washington, D.C. Ed. McIntyre, also '33, is working in the same department.

Charles Cuddy, '34, is now a statistician with the American Oil Company.

Gerald Galvin and Rollins Hanlon, both '34, are studying medicine at Johns Hopkins University.

Ed. Steffe, '34, has a position with the American Bank Stationary Company.

Felix Graham, '32, is now working with the American Brewery.

Jim Kemp, '33, who was married during the summer to Miss Mary Carol Dennison, is connected with the Pierce and Hebner Liquor Company.

Tom Skelton, '34, former star on the Loyola eleven, is now a foreman at the Federal Tin Company.

Marshall Jones, '33, who is studying Law at Georgetown, is also connected with the Department of Justice.

Collector of Internal Revenue

Going way down in the pile to nearly four decades ago, we find that M. Hampton Magruder, '96, was recently named Collector of Internal Revenue for the Baltimore area. Mr. Magruder was States Attorney for Prince George's County at one time.

Coming back to recent classes we learn that Phil Smith, '31, is at present among the number of local barristers.

Charley Dolan, '34, is making good at selling paint.

Vince Carlin, '33, formerly with the B.E.R.C., is now connected with a local petroleum company.

Tom Grogan, '29, is head of the Legal Aid Bureau.

Charley Jackson, '34, is attending classes at the University of Maryland Law School.

Anselm Sodaro, '31, is with the O'Farrell Law Office in the Fidelity Building.

Ed. Schaub, '34, is now studying at the Maryland Law School, and also working with a local neon sign company.

Ed. Rehkopf, '34, is working in Washington, D.C., on the staff of the Evening Star.

Rev. Ferdinand C. Wheeler, S.J., ex '05, president of Loyola High School, was the celebrant of a High Requiem Mass for the repose of the soul of the Rev. Eugene DeL. McDonnell, S.J., at Saint Ignatius' Church.

Rev. Edwin L. Leonard, '10, Archdiocesan Director of Catholic Charities, was deacon of honor to Archbishop Curley at the Solemn Pontifical Mass which marked the golden jubilee of Brother Paul, C.F.X. The Very Rev. Monsignor Harry A. Quinn, ex '14, rector of the Cathedral, was master of ceremonies at the same ceremony.

John D. Wheeler, S.J., ex '99, brother of the Rev. Ferdinand C. Wheeler, S.J., ex '05, president of Loyola High School, died on June 27, at Worcester, Mass. He was buried at Holy Cross College.

Timothy J. Foley, ex '86, retired merchant of Pikesville, died on Tuesday, November 5, after a year's illness. A Requiem High Mass was said at St. Charles Catholic Church, on Thursday, November 7, by the Rev. Ambrose Beavan. Interment followed in the New Cathedral Cemetery.

FATHER McDONNELL, KNOWN AS ALUMNUS AND ORGANIZER, DIES

PROMOTED FUND FOR GYM

(Continued from Page 1, Col. 1)

but because of existing conditions his superiors changed their plans, and he became at different times the pastor of Holy Trinity and Saint Aloysius Churches in Washington, and Saint Ignatius Church in Baltimore. During the thirty-two years of his priesthood, Father McDonnell was also president of Gonzaga College, and served at Saint Joseph's Church, Philadelphia.

Attended Loyola

He was educated at Loyola High School, Loyola College, and received his Bachelor of Arts degree from Georgetown University in 1885. He entered the novitiate of the Society of Jesus, then located at Frederick, Md., completed his courses of philosophy and theology at Woodstock College, and was ordained to the priesthood by Cardinal Gibbons in June, 1903.

It was more than two decades ago that Father McDonnell became interested in the retreat movement in the Archdiocese of Baltimore. His zeal for higher things and his interest in the spiritual welfare of men led to the construction of the retreat house on the Severn River, in 1926. Since that time countless numbers of men have passed through the portals of Manresa. Many gained the spiritual comfort which they sought, but all discovered and remembered the energy, the kindness, the good humor and the piety of Father McDonnell.

Helped To Build Gym

Father 'Gene', as his friends were wont to call him, was well-known as a promoter and organizer. Not only did he display indefatigable energy and earnestness in the retreat movement, but in anything which he undertook, whether it was the building of schools or the enlargement or improvement of churches. Loyola should well remember him for his unceasing activity in the collecting of funds for the construction of the Alumni Gymnasium. When the College department moved from Calvert Street to Evergreen, Father McDonnell set about raising $200,000 for the building which was to be the gift of the alumni. He showed such spirit in this great task, that the men could not help but attend "Father Gene's" meetings. The gymnasium today is only one example of the untiring ability of this truly great priest.

Retreat Master

He had a great devotion to St. Francis Xavier, and many

HERE AND THERE

A very good classroom procedure suggests itself in the activities at St. Louis University. At that institution, in accord with current radio fashion, a "Mr. Average Man" programme originates on the university church steps. In order to put the questioner at his ease, the questioner at the beginning of the interview asks him very ever-so-simple questions. Oh yes, that good classroom procedure! We resolve that our professors should, in order to put us at ease, ask us in our exams "very simple questions at first, then if they wish us to be extremely nonchalant, let all the questions be very simple.

* * *

From the Evening Sun we read that Ozzie Nelson and Harriet Hilliard have been were the times that Saint Ignatius' Church was packed to the doors when he preached at the Novena of Grace exercises. Although he had an incomparable love for all spiritual services, this noble man's heart and soul were centered on Manresa. Some years ago, a relative of Father McDonnell's died and left him a sum of money. The beautiful chapel at Manresa is the result of the kindness and generosity of this famous retreat-master. But his interest in the spiritual welfare of souls was not only given to the men. He conducted the first retreat for laywomen in Maryland in June, 1913, at Mount De Sales Academy, the alma mater of Father McDonnell's mother.

Because it is a custom of the Jesuits to bury a member of the order from the Jesuit church nearest the place of his death, the Mass for the repose of the soul of Father McDonnell was said at Holy Trinity Church, Washington, on Wednesday morning, October 30, by the Rev. Arthur A. O'Leary, S.J., president of Georgetown University. The Rev. Ferdinand C. Wheeler, S.J., ex '05, president of Loyola High School and pastor of Saint Ignatius' Church, Baltimore, led in the recitation of the Office of the Dead. The Most Rev. John N. McNamara, '97, Auxiliary Bishop of Baltimore, presided at the Mass. The Very Rev. Zacheus Maher, S.J., recently appointed American Assistant to the Father General of the Society of Jesus in Rome, and the Very Rev. Joseph A. Canning, S.J., president of Loyola College, were deacons of honor to Bishop McNamara.

married. Upperclassmen will remember that Ozzie Nelson's Orchestra, with Harriet and Ozzie doing the vocals, scored a record hit here two years ago when they were featured at the Junior Prom of the class of '35.

* * *

The coeds of Marshall College, West Va., are the unwitting source of controversy among the faculty. Some "profs" are tearing their hair because some coeds have succumbed to the "knitting craze", and insist on carrying this practice into the classroom.

* * *

University of Michigan word definitions: Honesty-fear of being caught. Truth-lack of tact. Courage-combination of stubbornness and resignation. Pleasure—one half memory, one half anticipation. Moron—one who is content with a serene mind.

* * *

Syracuse University, N. Y.: A criminology class discovered that morons can dance as well as, if not better than the most people of normal mentality. (Marzal) N.B.)

* * *

Niagara Index, Niagara Univ., N. Y. Excerpts: More than 18,000,000 people are playing basketball throughout the United States. Recently, Biochemist Hector Mortimer told the American Neurological Association that our skulls get denser as we get older. And that the condition is ten (10) time more common in women than it is in men!

* * *

The Spectator, Seattle College: What this country needs is an automobile with brakes as tight as the driver sometimes gets. If theatres would have the gum scraped off of their seats, perhaps they would not be troubled with people seeing the show twice.

* * *

The Viatorian, St. Viator College: Some bright (?) student at N. Y. U. discovered a new way to crib. It seems that notes written on watch crystals and spectacles in grape juice become visible when breathed upon. (Miller please note.)

When you hold a benefit Card Party
In your home or elsewhere
Don't Forget
JOHN HASSLINGER
Makes a Special Crab Cake
you can sell at 5c each, and make a profit—
Delivered Hot
PHONE, Wolfe 3618
1734 N. WASHINGTON ST.
We make deliveries until 11:30 P. M.

Chick's Chatter

A. E. C.

This Department Errs

I am sorry; I must apologize. I was disillusioned by too vivid an imagination, and I assure you it will not happen again. I made a statement last time which I wish to retract. I believe I mentioned that the hold-overs from last season's varsity had better look to their positions for fear some of the new talent might wrest them from their grip. That, fellows, is just plain hooley. Since that time, I have seen more and more of the new boys and consequently think less of their chances of breaking into the regular lineup this season. True, there are a few prospects, but unless Coach Liston works double-time, he won't have them ready for three seasons yet, let alone this one.

Let's take that lanky freshman, my good friend Mr. George Mantz, for instance. That young man (I envy him), has a very prized quality that goes a long way into the making of a great basket-ball player; there is no need of my telling you that that boy has height! Now just watch him on the floor; why, the gifted one can't or won't get off his feet. With all that height and reach, he just about outjumps "Saga" Kelly. I am sure his feet are not as heavy as they look. Then another thing, why does he insist on shooting from the outside? Doesn't he realize that Nature patterned him for setups under the basket, and for capturing the all-important rebounds?

* * *

Try This---Results Guaranteed

Now, George, just a little lesson. As a high school sophomore, I aspired to being a high jumper. (My friends, that is no laughing matter; at the time I had no idea that my growing days were over). To get back to the lesson; our coach told us a sure-fire method that would teach us to get off our feet.

He suggested that every night before we went to bed, we should stand before the bed and begin our exercises thus: As we stand, count one. Then with arms outstretched before us, bend down in a crouched position, and count two. Now the fun really starts. Spring forward as high as possible and land on the soft bed before us. Count three. As soon as we'd land, naturally we would sink deep (Ed. note: What kind is it, Chick, a Beauty rest?) almost hitting the floor with the spring. On the rebound we should gracefully spring backwards and alight on the floor in our original position. Count four. Repeat until you are confined in a padded cell. That, my friend, should remedy your fault. If you can actually learn to get off the floor, I am sure you will be ready in a little less than three years. That goes for the remaining subs as well. Each of you has a defect, and you must overcome it by your diligent application, and I am sure that as soon as you correct the fault, whatever it is, your presence will be felt, and before long the laurels of victory will adorn your brow. This is not a pretty speech, you men; it is just good old common horse sense. My only hope is that it strikes home at the right places.

* * *

-- Sports Scraps --

"Taxicab" Vaniewsky of Catawba College of Salisbury, N.C., has booted eight extra points out of eleven. This isn't bad when you consider that Mr. Vaniewsky is a Center. I wonder how he does it.

* * *

"Brillman oppose Tutor-Cats" was a headline appearing in the LaSalle Collegian. Naturally it referred to the coming games with West Chester Teachers and St. Thomas' Tommy Cats; but it was sly at that.

* * *

"Ivan the terrible" Nedomatsky, the Southern Conference 125-lb. boxing champion of the University of Maryland, has forsaken the ring for a medical career according to the Diamond-back.

* * *

This, supposedly a sports column, must if it expects to be recognized as one by the sports-loving public, say something concerning the classic win of Notre Dame over Ohio State a couple of weeks ago. One might think that I am belittling, but it's really because I am a Conservative that I say the Pilney to "Anvene" combination simply reminds me of a certain Dal-laire to Curtis combine which ran wild for Loyola several seasons back.

JUNIORS CLINCH INDOOR CROWN
BY BEATING SENIOR TEAM, 9-4

MISCUES MAR FAST TILT

The clouting bats of Cadell, Smith and Powers plus the pitching of Tom Carney spelled defeat for "Otts" Kelly's Senior A.B. team in the final game of the Indoor League playoff. The Junior A.B. team won the series and the Fall championship by taking this game to the tune of 9-4.

Seniors Err

The contest by far the most thrilling of the series was marred by many errors on the part of the Seniors. After a third inning rally which brought the Seniors to within one run of tying the score, it was anybody's ball game. Then Cadell smashed out the longest hit of the day, a home run to center field and started the Juniors on a scoring spree which didn't cease until four runs had crossed the plate. The Seniors, except for a rally in the third inning did not threaten the Junior's lead.

Carney's pitching was a feature of the contest. He struck out nine men and outside of a streak of wildness in the third inning pitched nearly perfect ball. The Juniors clearly proved that they are superior to any team in the League and established themselves as the probable winners of the Spring Tournament.

Series Deadlocked

Previous to this game the series was deadlocked, both teams having won one game. The first game was captured by the Seniors 8-4, but suffering a distinct form reversal they dropped the second one 14-6. The loss of the first game of the series was the only defeat handed to the Juniors during the whole race for the League crown.

Junior A.B.
	A.B.	R.	H.
Carney p. (Capt.)	5	1	2
Powers 2b.	4	2	2
Smith ss.	5	3	2
Cadell 3b.	4	1	2
Marszal 1b.	4	0	0
Ricciuti c.	3	1	2
Niemoeiler lf.	4	0	0
Murphy cf.	2	1	0
O'Donnell rf.	4	0	0

Senior A.B.
	A.B.	R.	H.
Gavin 3b.	4	0	1
Jendrek lf.	5	1	1
DeCesare c.	5	1	2
Kelly p. (capt.)	3	0	0
Usher ss.	3	1	0
Rice 2b.	4	0	0
Pottast rf.	2	0	1
Sneeringer cf.	4	1	2
Zerhusen 1b.	3	0	0

Errors: Gavin 3, Marszal, Usher, Jendrek, Kelly, 1. Strike-outs: Carney 9, Kelly 4. Walks: Carney 7, Kelly 5. Home runs: Cadell, Smith, Jendrek, Sneeringer. Doubles: DeCesare, Ricciuti.

Score by innings:
Juniors	0	1	3	1	4	0	0	—	9
Seniors	0	0	3	0	1	0	0	—	4

To the Sports Editor of the Greyhound:
Dear Sir,

There seems to be some doubt as to whether the Sophomores are going to expose themselves to the revenge of the Freshmen by playing them in the annual football game the day before Thanksgiving. In fact no one seems to know whether this game, which has been a tradition at the College will be discontinued or not. I am writing you in the hope that you can explain to the Freshman Class the reason for the doubt concerning this game, as they are eager to exhibit their good feeling towards the Sophomores by playing them a friendly game of football.

Father Jacobs has already given his permission for the game. But it has been hinted that the Sophomores are reluctant. What could be meant by that? The Sophomores have shown so much energy in holding court sessions that they surely cannot be too much out of trim to play. Perhaps they don't wish to hurt the Freshmen any more, or perhaps they can't stand the hurt look in the Freshmen's eyes, as they won't blindfold them for the game.

Mr. Sports Editor, I hope you can unveil the real reason for the apparent discontinuance of the game.

Yours sincerely,
A Freshmen.

Dear Freshman:

The real reason is the sad fact that the participants this year must supply their own equipment. Very few fellows can dig up the necessary regalia, and naturally, as you suggested, the Sophs won't exert themselves. If equipment for the game cannot be secured by enough students, I propose that the two classes settle their differences in a game of Rugby. The essentials of the game are not too difficult to learn, and the necessary equipment is a minimum. I believe it should be worth a trial if football seems out of the question. If the Sophs continue to evade the question, however, use your own judgement!

Yours,
Chick

LOYOLA TO HAVE JAYVEE
BASKETBALL THIS YEAR

With an array of basketball stars (whose ability does not warrant a position on the varsity squad) scattered throughout the school, Coach Bill Liston had decided to have a Junior Varsity Team.

This squad will act as a step between the Varsity and the Intramural teams, and will offer a field of competition to the future varsity material. With members of all classes eligible for positions on the team, and with former high-school luminaries in Freshman, it should round out as a formidable outfit, and should offer strong opposition to the local quints it will play. Although the squad has not yet been called out, Coach Liston expects to devote several days a week towards its development. At present a schedule is being arranged with the teams which the Junior Varsity will engage as preliminary contests to the Varsity games.

NINETEEN GAME CARD LOOMS
FOR GREYHOUND COURT TEAM

JERSEY TRIP SCHEDULED

With visions of the championship on the far away horizon, the Varsity five announces another pretentious schedule for the coming season. Nineteen games have been booked for the Loyola quint, all formidable foes, although two contests with Gallaudet are pending.

Besides the ten scheduled games in the Maryland Collegiate League, Loyola has arranged a home and home series with two neighboring Jesuit Colleges: St. Joseph's College of Philadelphia, and St. Peter's College of Jersey City.

Both of these clubs will offer strong competition to the Green and Gray Club. St. Joseph's has one of the highest ranking teams in Philadelphia, and St. Peter's has a team which will worthily represent the metropolitan area.

Contests have likewise been arranged with the Alumni and the State Teachers' fives. Thus far no games have been booked with either Catholic U., or any of the other metropolitan area teams.

Loyola fans have a lot of excitement in store for them with ten fast games scheduled in the Maryland League, where competition is always close, and with the games against these two strong neighboring Jesuit quints.

The Schedule:

Dec. 10—Alumni	Home
Dec. 13—Md. State Teachers	Home
Dec. 20—St. Joseph's	Phila.
Dec. 21—St. Peter's	Jersey City
Jan. 7—Gallaudet (Pending)	Away
Jan. 11—St. Joseph's	Home
Jan. 15—Mt. St. Mary's	Emmitsburg
Jan. 18—Johns Hopkins	Home
Jan. 25—Washington College	Chestertown
Jan. 30—Western Maryland	Home
Feb. 1—St. Peter's	Home
Feb. 8—St. John's	Home
Feb. 11—Western Maryland	Away
Feb. 13—Gallaudet (Pending)	Home
Feb. 15—Johns Hopkins	Homewood
Feb. 19—Md. State Teachers	Away
Feb. 22—Mt. St. Mary's	Home
Feb. 25—St. John's	Annapolis
Feb. 29—Washington College	Home

More definitions from the Minnesota "Ram": Athlete: A dignified bunch of muscles unable to shovel snow or shift ashes. Cannibal: A heathen who never works, but lives on other people. (Ed. note: Any-way we aren't heathens.)

Slips from the freshmen of Westminster College at Wilmington, Pa., "The Epistles were wives of the Apostles. "Revolutions is the last chapter of the Bible." "Lazarus is a city in Palestine."

COLONEL CHARLES FURLONG GIVES LECTURE IN LIBRARY

SPEAKS ON "ETHIOPIA"

Lecturer Is World Traveler
And A Former U. S.
Army Officer

(Continued from Page 1, Col. 2)

dwells in the central part, and the Somali, or coastal people.

The Italians have been desirous of controlling Ethiopia for seventy years. Britain encouraged Italy to purchase Eritrea and Somaliland to keep France away from the life-line of the Empire which Britain is now afraid Italy will endanger. Lake Tsana, the source of the Blue Nile, is in Ethiopia, and Britain, while controlling the White Nile must also be certain of the Blue Nile in order to hold the Sudan, which gives control of Egypt, which gives control of Suez, the key of the British Empire. The speaker frequently made references to European history for the purpose of explaining events in Africa.

Concerning The War

Concerning the present war, the former army officer said that the feudally organized Ethiopians are great marchers and able to mobilize swiftly, are used to handling firearms and have been trained somewhat by foreign officers. The chief objective of the Italians will be to cut the single railroad line, but they will have to build their way into the country to maintain their line of supplies.

Haile Selassie, in the opinion of the lecturer, is a better statesman than Menelik, his predecessor, and is also a good patriot, but is not so forceful as a leader.

Italy's Needs

Italy has great need of the natural resources of Ethiopia, especially fibres and metals. In slave-trading days, said Colonel Furlong, Africans were taken from Africa, now Africa is being taken from the Africans. The last part of the talk was devoted to a discussion of world politics and the possible effects of the present conflict.

LECTURE OF "DIPLOMACY" OPENS HISTORY ACADEMY

DOCTOR DOEHLER SPEAKS

"Diplomatic Background Of The Great War" Subject
Of Lecture Series

(Continued from Page 1, Col. 1)

White, '37, Secretary; Charles O. Fisher, '38, Archivist.

Program

The following is the program of speakers and their subjects:

November:

"The Bismarckian System of Diplomacy (1870-1890)," by William J. O'Donnell '37.

December:

"The League of the Three Emperors" (1873-1887) by Francis X. Wright, '36. "The Congress of Berlin" (1878) by Charles E. Kelly, '36.

January:

"The Austro-German Alliance" (1879), by William J. Little, '37. "The Triple Alliance" (1882-1914), by Bernard D. Rice, '36.

February:

"The Franco-Russian Alliance" (1894), by Thomas E. Bracken, '37. "The Dual Entente" (1904), by Joseph J. Mack, '37.

March:

"The Triple Entente" (1907), by Charles O. Fisher, '38. "The Moroccan Crises" (1905-1911), by William E. White, '37.

April:

"The Bosnian Crisis" (1908-1909), by Vincent De P. Gavin, '36. "The Troublesome Balkans (1912-1913), by Raymond J. Cooper, '36.

May:

"Diplomacy in 1914", by Charles B. Kelly, '36. "Diplomacy and Peace in Modern History", by Edward A. Doehler, Ph.D.

ETHIOPIAN QUESTION SUBJECT OF FIRST BELLARMINE DEBATE

JENDREK, BOKEMEYER WIN

Speakers From Floor Stage
Lively Demonstration
In Argument

(Continued from Page 1, Col. 3)

on the question: "Resolved: That the policies of the present Roosevelt government are faulty in principle and a failure in practice."

F. E. R. A. Helps Logola Students

(Continued from Page 1, Col. 5)

Besides the financial aid furnished, the students also gain invaluable experience in the work assigned to them.

Father Jacobs, Dean of Men, is faculty supervisor of the work here at Loyola.

Telephone: UNIVERSITY 3500

GEO. J. STORCK & SON

LUMBER

Sash, Doors, Blinds, Flooring, Wallboard, etc.
2406-18 GREENMOUNT AVENUE

They ain't stream lined or air conditioned—
but they sure are mild and they sure got taste

... made of mild ripe tobaccos ...

we believe Chesterfields will add a lot to your pleasure.

LIGGETT & MYERS TOBACCO CO.

